

Backlog

Id	As..	I want...	So that...	Definition of Done	Observations
1	An User	To create audio records	I can save important information	The user must be able to create and store audio files in the app	The record format must be .mp4
2	An User	To know when I'm recording audio	I can know how long I've been recording and can pause/resume recording anytime I want	The user must have a way to start and end a recording and see the duration of it
3	An User	To delete audio records	I don't have to store unused or unimportant information	The user must have a way to delete a record and the respective record must be deleted when the user confirms the action	A pop-up confirming the deletion action must be presented to the user
4	An User	To rename audio records	I can rename them as I wish	The user must have a way to rename a record and the respective record must have its name altered if the user confirms the action
5	An User	To see my records	I can keep track of what I have stored and other useful information about a record	The user must have a way to see all their records in a list with their respective useful information	Useful Information include duration, recording date and time
6	An User	To share my records to other platforms	I can easily access and manipulate them from other programs	The user must be able to send their records to other programs	The supported shareable programs must include at least Google Drive, Gmail and Messenger
7	An User	I want to record audio in high quality	I can store richer and more detailed audio files	The user must be able to change the recording mode to record audio in high definition and be able to identify HQ Audio files
8	An User	I want to see information about the app	I can know things the developers considered important sharing	The user must be able to visualize information about the app the developers consider relevant	The information must include the license and all third-party components used